

Chapter 4

LIST TYPES

- There are 3 kinds of lists in HTML. They are: ordered lists, unordered lists and descriptive lists.
- The content inside each of these lists is written as list item elements, using the <li> element.
- The ordered list element is <ol>.
- The unordered list element is <ul>.
- The description list element is <dl>.
- An <li> element can have any other type of element nested in it.
- The description list consists of 2 types of elements in it: The <dt> element containing the description title and the <dd> element containing the description detail.
